

Frazier, Buell Wesley, N.O. testimony. Sources: T-P 2/14; S-I 2/15/69

At least twice he said the curtain rods had been bought for Lee by Marina. Lee told him this on way to Irving and next a.m. on way back to Dallas

"He said he was going to see Marina to get some curtain rods she had bought for him."

There are other points in Frazier's testimony that address the intentions of the Commission and its staff, the honesty of the deposition, the dishonesty of the Report and a number of other elements all consistent with the misrepresentation of Oswald. For example, on their arrival at the TSBD "about eight or 10 minutes before eight" (T-P):

He parked the car and sat there charging the battery

"Lee stood there waiting", remembered Frazier, "But then he walked off and I never caught up with him...."

"Did you see him enter the building?", queried Alcock.

"Yes, I did", said Frazier. "I saw him enter the book depository several times."

All of this is inconsistent with the testimony that was elicited by the WC, and it seems only because the Commission found this testimony uncongenial.
